Do you look after a friend or relative's child because they are unable to do so themselves?

We can help you find out:

- Your legal rights and responsibilities
- Your financial entitlements
- Where to get practical and emotional support to help you cope

Advisers at every Scottish CAB can provide detailed advice on kinship care and can access additional specialist advice for complex cases.

Your local Citizens Advice Bureau is listed in the phone book or find them online at www.cas.org.uk

If you can't get to your local CAB, get on the phone. You can call the confidential Kinship Care Helpline on:

0808 800 0006

Calls are free from landlines and most mobiles.
